Mason Dixon line

Charles Mason and Jeremiah laid out the line sometime between 1763 and 1767 at $39^{\circ} 43' 26''$ north latitude Originally it was the boundary between Maryland and Pennsylvania. Later it marked the line between slave states and free states.

(1712-1786) FREDERICK II, the GREAT King of Prussia. Born in Berlin. Succeeded in 1740. Invaded SILESIA, almost the whole of which was ceded to him by MARIA THERESA (1742). In 1756 he invaded Saxony and so began the Seven Years War against the allied armies of Austria, France, and Russia. His forces were decimated & on the death of Elizabeth of Russia, France grew tired of the struggle & Austria not caring to continue signed the treaty of HUBERTSBURG in 1763 by which Frederick was allowed to retain his kingdom intact. During the ensuing period of peace, he devoted himself to the development of the country.

In the first partition of Poland (1772) he managed to acquire WEST PRUSSIA. He cultivated the French language and authors in preference to German & was a friend & admirer of Voltaire. He was a voluminous writer, but wrote chiefly in French.
